LAHORE RUNS A GAME RACE

COLORS OF J. O. TALBOTT ARE CARRIED TO VICTORY IN DELAWARE HANDICAP.

Son of Delhi and Nora Creina Is Knocked Back in Early Part of Saratoga Feature Race, but Overcomes Disadvantage and Wins by a Head.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 6.—The Delaware Handicap, one mile, for horses three years old and upward, was the feature event decided here this afternoon and J. O. Talbott's Lahore, running one of the best races that he has shown this year, was returned the winner after a pretty struggle. Lahore was pinched off and knocked back to next to last place after the start and, as he remained in that position until the far turn was reached, he appeared to be out of the running. But then Borel sent him on after the others and, showing a dazzling burst of speed, he picked them up one by one. At the furlong post he overtook Light O' M' Life, which had wrested the lead from Spring Board and, in the hard drive to the finish, Lahore stood the strain best and secured by a head. Guy Fisher closed fast in the stretch and finished in third place. Spring Board quit to a walk in the last furlong.

The tabled history of the Delaware Handicap is given below:

W. P. Northey, secretary of the Montreal Jockey Club, is here in the interest of the fall stakes for tomorrow. With Mr. Northey came quite a party of Montreal folks, whose particular object was to see Wickson race in the steeplechase. They backed him to a man. Wickson closed favorite, went to the front on the last circuit and won easily. His owner, L. A. Ekers, former mayor of Montreal, was in the party. Wickson was purchased by Mr. Ekers for $300 several years ago to run at a hunt club race. The race failed to fill and Mr. Ekers has had him ever since. On his showing today he probably will win many races for his owner.

W. P. Riggs, secretary of the Maryland Jockey Club, came into town last night and will remain here for a week or more.

Bob R., the horse that Albert Simons took out of a selling race last night for $2,200, has been sold to J. O. Talbott, but the terms of the sale were not made public.

Astute, which was a starter in the steeplechase, and which showed good speed for a mile, is eligible for the Harbor Hill Cup, which will be run during the Piping Rock meeting this fall. This event is for three-year-olds and is a valuable stake.

Raoul, one of the starters in the closing dash, is by the well known stallion Oiseau, now belonging to the Canadian Breeding Bureau.

J. H. Atlanta, Ga. Being a four-year-old in 1912, Bettie Sue could not have run in a race for two-year-olds. Insurance Man did win a race for two-year-olds at Charleston April 4, 1912, but of course Bettie Sue was not in it.

R. S. Richmond, O. The mare Flirting, not Flirtie, was sold to W. C. Wright in a paddock sale at Latonia November 9, 1912. She is now eight years old and is by Maceo-Gadabout, by Spendthrift. Her last winning race was in 1910.

L. F. M. Chicago. The bet was on a horse in the second race of the day at Toronto and when it did not start became a draw. It would not be on the horse when it started on a subsequent day without having been ordered to be placed on it whenever it should start.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY M'KELVAY'S PAINSTAKING INSTRUCTIONS TO DEPUTY SHERIFFS DOING DUTY AT SARATOGA TRACK

Saratoga, N. Y., August 6.—That District Attorney Lawrence B. McKelvey of Saratoga County has a thorough grasp of the laws in regard to gambling and bookmaking was demonstrated by the clear and concise instructions he gave the deputy sheriffs who were called before him on the opening day of the present Saratoga meeting. Many of these men had been appointed by Sheriff Crippen solely for this race meeting and were not thoroughly conversant with the laws under which the racing is being held here.

The district attorney spoke as follows: "You men are brought up here and will be sent to the track to enforce the laws of this state; you are not being sent up there to take the county's money for doing nothing; you are not sent out to see how little you can see or do the least you can do, but you will be sent up there to perform an honest, useful and decent purpose, and that is to see to it that the law isn't violated, and I define those violations to you. You will go up there and do that duty honestly, because you go up there and take the county's money, and simply go up there intending to do nothing, or wink at violations of the law, you are guilty of just as much of a crime as if you stole so many dollars a day. That is the first proposition. I don't want to be offensive to you—I know you all—but it is my duty to say that.

"In the second place, you will perform those duties regardless of any local prejudice, on the one hand, or any outside influence on the other. We can run this county, we are all of us capable of enforcing the laws of this state within our county, and we must not be prejudiced by anything that the people here think, and not be embarrassed by what anybody outside of the county may think.

"Now, when you get out to the track, the sheriff will be with you, have some system of posting you in different places around in the crowd; it will be a terribly large crowd, probably; and you will take those positions and do what he says.

"You will keep your eyes open and see what is going on. If you see any ordinary violations of the law you will do it in the same way as you would in any other—stop it and make an arrest. If you see what you think is in the nature of gambling anywhere perhaps it will avoid confusion for you to immediately report that to the sheriff. If you will be there, and let him decide when the action should be taken, unless it is some very flagrant violation of the law. When you get out there, on the other hand, you must not unduly interfere with any people; you must not trespass on any man's rights.

"Thousands and thousands of people come to this county for pleasure and we want to welcome them and they are entitled to decent respect and fair treatment at our hands as long as they remain within the law. If you should arrest a man or interfere with him in any way, you are sure to get ground for supposing that he is committing any of the crimes that I have described to you, then you are guilty of a wrong and injustice, because men who come here are entitled to their privileges and to justice. I assume, and they tell me, and I have reason to suppose that they honestly intend, to help you men in the enforcement of the law. They are experienced at it, and they may be able to do you great service in doing so. I understand their authority is recognized among the people who go to the track as in a measure supreme, and, if you are not entirely sure about any man just as to whether he ought to be doing what he does, of course the sheriff will confer with Mr. Pinkerton and with his representatives, and I am sure that if the sheriff then feels that the man is not wanted on the track and wants him removed from the track, that they will co-operate with him and do it.

"If anybody starts a crap game or anything of that sort there on the track or near it, stop it. If anybody opens a poolroom or gambling joint break it up and don't have any hesitancy about it, or if any man indulges in any of the things which I will describe to you later on, or anything like it you see give it to him and report it to the sheriff. If you find out about any of these things, if you get the evidence bring it to him. If you cannot get the evidence for the sheriff take it up with the proper parties or myself and we will see that the man is put off the track.

"These people that come to the track are many of them well known, especially to the Pinkerton Detective Agency, and the men that you have reason to complain of will probably be men that they know. I know that it is so at the Belmont track; the men who have been complained of are men whose names are known in the racing world, as I understand it.

"Now, gentlemen, it may take me a minute or two; it is my duty to read to you the statutes which the governor mentions to me, and which are to be found in the Constitution and Penal Code. It is provided by article I, section 9, of the State Constitution in part as follows:

"Nor shall any lottery, or the sale of lottery tickets, pool selling, bookmaking, or any other kind of gambling hereafter be authorized or allowed within this state; and the legislature shall pass appropriate laws to prevent offenses against any of the provisions of this section."

"The law which was passed in 1910 and about which you hear so much, is section 986 of the Penal Code.

"Any person who engages in pool-selling or book-making with or without any writing at any time or place; or any person who keeps or occupies any room, shed, tenement, tent, booth, or building, float or vessel or any part thereof, or who occupies any place or stand of any kind upon any public or private grounds, within this state, with books, papers, apparatus or paraphernalia, for the purpose of recording or registering bets or wagers, or of selling pools or makes book with or without writing, upon the result of any trial or contest of skill, speed, power of endurance, of man or beast, or upon the result of any political nomination, appointment or election, or upon the result of any lot, chance, casualty, unknown or contingent event whatsoever; or any person who receives, registers, records or forwards, or purports or pretends to receive, register, record or forward in any manner whatsoever, any money, thing or consideration of value, bet or wagered, or offered for the purpose of being bet or wagered, by or for any other person, or sells pools, upon any such result; or any person who, being the owner, lessee or occupant of any room, shed, tenement, tent, booth or building, float or vessel, or part thereof,

"Or of any grounds within this state, knowingly permits the same to be used or occupied for any of these purposes, or therein keeps, exhibits or employs any device or apparatus for the purpose of recording or registering such bets or wagers, or the selling of such bets or wagers, or the selling of such pools, or becomes the custodian or depository for gain, hire or reward, of any money, property or thing of value, staked, wagered or pledged upon any such result; or any person who aids, assists or abets in any manner in any of the said acts, which are hereby forbidden, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction is punishable by imprisonment in a penitentiary or county jail for a period of not more than one year.

"Sec. 991. Illegal wagers, bets and stakes. All wagers, bets or stakes made to depend upon any race or upon any gambling by lot or chance, or upon any lot, chance, casualty, or unknown or contingent event whatever, shall be unlawful."

"Sec. 992. Contracts on account of money or property wagered, bet or staked are void. All contracts for or on account of any money or property or thing in action wagered, bet or staked, as provided in the preceding section, shall be void."

"Sec. 997. Officers directed to prosecute offenses. It is the duty of all sheriffs, constables, police officers and prosecuting or district attorneys to inform against and prosecute all persons whom they have reason to believe offenders against any provisions of this article, and an omission to do so is punishable by a fine not exceeding $500."

"Now, gentlemen, these are the statutes that are called to your attention. They may or may not be plain, but all those statutes have been considered by the courts, and I am going to assume the responsibility of telling you what they mean, and I will try to tell it in simple language, and tell it as I understand the courts have told it.

"An ordinary private bet between individuals is not a crime within this state, except in one case, and that is where a bet is made on a prizefight. That exception, however, doesn't trouble you here. So that I say to you that the law of the state is that an ordinary private bet made between two individuals, whether with or without any writing or memorandum, is not a crime, as I understand the law. Several of such bets, I assume, even if made by the same parties, would not be a crime, but any man who engages in the business of bookmaking, as that term will be later defined to you, is guilty of a crime.

"A bookmaker has been said to be of that class of men who make a business of betting with the public, soliciting bets, quoting odds and things of that character. That you can see is distinguished from the man who makes an honest, private bet. A private bet is illegal and unlawful, but it isn't a crime.

"Now, it is hard for me, it is hard for any man, it has been very hard for the courts, to tell just what bookmaking is, so I am going to read to you the language of two or three of the later decisions, feeling that that is the best I can do.

"Now, the last case on this subject that I can find—and I have spent weeks in trying to get myself familiar with this law—is one tried before the county judge of Nassau County—One Judge Niemann, I think, his name was. There the judge had up before him a number of men, the evidence against whom had been secured by the Burns Detective Agency, and the judge uses this language, which I will quote to you because it is the latest decision on the subject, and the only thing that you and I can do is to enforce these laws as the courts construe them:

"Ordinary betting, even if repeated from day to day, is not bookmaking. The statutes and the decisions have made a clear distinction between the person who transacts business as a professional gambler based upon a scheme and plan known as bookmaking, and the man who makes a bet or series of bets in the ordinary way. (People ex rel. Lichtenstein vs. Langan, supra.)

"It is this case, however, the crime of bookmaking is pointed out. The words, 'with or without writing,' inserted in the Penal Law by Chapter 488 of the laws of 1910, did not in any way change the fundamental requirement of the statute that to constitute the offense there must be bookmaking as it has always been understood.

"It may now be oral bookmaking, if that term may be employed—that is, bookmaking without writing—but the evidence must show that the accused belongs to the class of common gamblers, professional gamblers, whose operations are conducted upon the scheme known as bookmaking. 'Bookmaking' is distinct from the mere making or recording of bets."

"Now, gentlemen, you will see how hard it is for me to give you a clear and concise distinction between these two acts. While the Legislature passes a law the courts take it up and consider it, and then I must give you the result of the decisions as I read them.

"What I am trying to advise you now is that the ordinary private bet is not a crime, while bookmaking, as it is described in these decisions, is a crime. Now, I don't mean by that that you should let a thousand men run wildly on that track, making disorder and confusion, which might come from their acts, because that might be disorderly conduct or some kind, and it may be the racing association has no right to permit that if they have any knowledge of it.

"So if you see such a tremendous lot of men betting openly and notoriously so that the directors of the association must know about it, then report those circumstances to the sheriff and let him gather such information as he can for such use as he might want to make of it.

"Now, gentlemen, I have tried to do my duty in this and tell you honestly what the law is; it may be that some people won't like that construction of it, and I am the fellow that will be criticized for it, but I am big enough to handle it. You just follow out your work on the lines I have told you, follow it out on that track. Don't let any man commit any violations of the law.

"On the other hand, be decent and dignified to those people, because some of them are decent people and treat them the same as if you went away for amusement so long as they keep away from violating the law; that is what we want. If any man violates the law he must be punished for it; he must be punished regardless of what anybody else says about it.

"You men will be vigilant and keep your eyes open; do your duty honestly. If any of you men make the mistake of putting down a bet on the race track and I hear about it, I will prosecute him and have him removed; because such a thing would be a disgrace to this county, and if any man known to be a violator of the law expects favors of you and gets confidential about his business, and I hear of it, I will prosecute you, and I will have the sheriff take whatever measures are proper.

"There is just one thing more. Your jurisdiction extends not only to the race track, but all over this county. My understanding is that you have been designated for special work on the track, but you deputy sheriffs have jurisdiction all over the county. If you hear of any gambling, or any points that are open, any brace games, crap games, get the evidence and report it to the sheriff and to me. Go out there, gentlemen, and do your duty and do it as I have defined it to you, and if I am wrong, I am the fellow that will have to stand that, but I have defined the law as I understand it.

"In view of the fact that private betting is carried on by a great number of people, whether it is a crime or not, may tend to disorder and confusion, and if you can see any private betting which is open and which is visible to you, then you will report that to the sheriff and he will report the situation to me and I will take such steps as are proper."

RICH RACE TO FLORA FINA

J. W. JOHNSON'S FILLY WINS $5,000 DOMINION HANDICAP AT FORT ERIE.

Leads from Start to Finish and Wins with Plenty in Reserve—First Sight Makes Disappointing Showing—Hodge Again a Winner.

Buffalo, N. Y., August 6.—Favored by perfect conditions for racing, a vast throng crowded the spacious grounds of the Niagara Racing Association at Fort Erie this afternoon and saw Flora Fina, under a well-judged ride from jockey J. Callahan, lead throughout the route of a mile and a quarter in the $5,000 Dominion Handicap and land the rich stake for J. W. Johnson of Kentucky. Flora Fina exhibited a keen turn of speed from the outset. She assumed command almost immediately after the start and jockey Callahan wisely rated her along in front. She was under the best as the race was run and had ample in reserve at the finish. Donerail, Hamilton and Flabbergast alternated in attempting to head the daughter of Ogden and Flora Pomona, but their efforts were futile. What chances Hamilton had of being a contending factor at the finish were nullified through his being pocketed at nearly every stage of the trip. Donerail being primarily responsible for the poor showing of Mr. Schorr's colt, which was afforded little opportunity to show a meritorious performance.

This was the fourth running of the Dominion Handicap. Its brief history follows:

Year.	Winner.	A.Wt.	Jockey.	Val. Time.
1910	Jack Atkin	117	G. Archib	$7,000 2:04
1911	Flint Rock	105	E. Dugan	3:450 2:04 1/4
1912	Star Charter	119	Butwell	3:450 2:03 3/4
1913	Flora Fina	102	J. Callahan	3:450 2:04 1/2

A select few profited handsomely through the success of Flora Fina, but the consensus of expert opinion accorded First Sight the greatest consideration. This was evidently a day of indisposition on the part of First Sight, the crack three-year-old at no time appearing as though he would dominate the situation. Evidently he was unable to successfully concede the weight he was attempting to.

But slightly secondary to the Dominion Handicap from a spectacular standpoint, was the fifth race, in which a good lot of sprinters contended over a six-furlong route. Of the original seven entered, Carlton G. was the only absentee. John W. Schorr's Broomstick gelding, Leeches, commanded the most support, while the sensationally quick-breaking western racer, Useet, the longest shot in the race, had the backing of the outsiders, although there was support for each of the starters. As usual, Useet was first to show, with Pan Zareta in close attendance and Helen Barbee third. This was the order to the head of the stretch, where Taylor, always striking distance with Calgary, made his bid. After a furious drive through the whole length of the stretch, Mr. Davies' sprinter just did manage to get up in time to score by a short head. Leeches, the betting choice, apparently left the post in a tangle. At any rate, he never appeared dangerous.

Hodge, running in the colors of W. H. Collins, won the purse for two-year-olds that was second on the card. Hodge was reserved behind Miss Gayle and Vandergrift to the stretch turn and when Teah called on him, he came away to win with ridiculous ease by four lengths. Miss Gayle beating the even money shot, Vandergrift, half a length for second place. It looks as if Mr. Collins got a cheap racer when he claimed Hodge for $1,650.

The jays fared well today, as El Oro and Three Links were the only favorites to score.

As shown by the time in each race, the track is decidedly faster than it was during the previous meeting here.

R. J. Mackenzie, the well-known millionaire Canadian turfman, was an interested spectator. It was his first appearance on the circuit this summer.

Woodford Clay of Kentucky was among the visitors.

Adair & Baker have bought Effendi from Sam Louis.

Immediately after the start of the third race, Tankard ran into Chapultepec, throwing him to his knees and into the fence. A fence rail plunged through Chapultepec's breast, killing him almost instantly.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Starter James Milton is helping the management of the new Dorval track at Montreal get the plant ready for a meeting next month.

Only one horse has been put on the schooling list at Saratoga, Harry Payne Whitney's Contrary. She is no doubt well named. James Rowe schools his colts thoroughly himself and rarely has one that acts fractionally.

Miss Nichols, the ten-year-old mare whose identity and eligibility was questioned at Mineral Springs Canadian turfman, was in a race for maidens, winning form at Vancouver, B. C., where she was shipped at the close of the Mineral Springs meeting.

Though this is the fifth of August, and the country was to have a surfeit of racing, according to its opponents, there has not yet been fifty days of racing at all the tracks of the Canadian Racing Associations, covering the territory from Montreal to Windsor—Toronto Globe.

Trainer W. S. Trevey practically admitted before Hawthorn went to the post at Saratoga Tuesday that the gelding had not been at himself for some time, but said he had improved more in ten days at the Spa than he had all summer. "If I had brought him here instead of going to Canada," said Trevey, "he would be as good now as he ever was."

Chief Justice Hunter of the Province of British Columbia, and Mr. W. J. Taylor, K. C., of Victoria, were guests of the British Columbia Thoroughbred Association at Minoru Park one afternoon recently. It was the decision handed down by the chief justice over a year ago that enables the Vancouver association to conduct an extended meeting each summer at Minoru Park. Mr. Taylor is the greatest breeder of thoroughbreds in western Canada. He recently imported some select mares from Australia and England, among those from England being Eastern Lily, a daughter of Lily Agnes, the dam of Ormonde. For sires he has St. Simonian II, and Cedarstrome, Lissak, which formerly did stud duty on the Taylor ranch, met with an accident last winter and was destroyed.

BUTTE MEETING COMES TO CLOSE.

Butte, Mont., August 6.—For the final day of the Butte racing season the largest crowd of the meeting turned out. A handicap at one mile and twenty yards excited the most interest and was easily won by Cu Bon, which led from start to finish.

The man with the halter was busy during the day. Roberta, winner of the third race, was bid up to $400 by J. Krause, but was retained. Prince Conrad, winner of the last race, was also bid up to $500 by J. Krause and likewise was retained. New Haven was bid up in the fifth race and sold to W. A. Smith for $800.

- Gymet, ch. f., by Voorhees—Sacharate, by Kingston.
- Hoenir, b. c., by Voorhees—Emir, by Ducat.

All stood their long trip well and are in excellent condition for training. In fact, trainer at the had several of them on the course yesterday at the Downs and breezed them half a mile as fast as 51. He is especially sweet on some of the fillies and thinks well of the colt Hoenir. The latter is a bit undersized in height, but is a blockily built youngster and before he was shipped from California showed good speed in training at Napa. The dam of this colt, Emir, was bred by E. Corrigan and she is out of that turfman's famous race mare, Moblossa, a daughter of Apache, which horse was a son of Mortimer.

Trainer Carroll reports that there are twenty-four yearlings at the Speckels ranch. He did think something of bringing the pick of the lot to Kentucky in the fall, but as racing prospects look so bright for the coming winter at Juarez he has about decided to take the entire collection to that place next winter and in the spring bring the best of the lot to Kentucky. Carroll thinks that young horses do better in the winter at Juarez than at any other track in the country. The fifteen horses he now has in training he will race at Douglas Park, Churchill Downs and Latonia this fall and then sell privately any that happen to meet the requirements of buyers. What he fails to dispose of in this way he will take to Juarez to race there next winter with the yearlings which will be shipped to him from Napa Stock Farm.

Jockey C. G. Schumacher is with trainer Carroll at Churchill Downs and will remain here until the fall racing season begins. The string is stable in the long barn near the quarter post, where the horses of R. J. Mackenzie and the stable of W. H. Pizer were quartered during the summer.

"Babe" Hurd, once a famous race rider, has charge at Churchill Downs of M. B. Gruber's much talked about yearling bay colt by McGee—Gunnrod, by Mirthful, which the Louisville turfman purchased from C. W. Moore, of Lexington, for a long time for $2,500. This youngster now stands a shade over fifteen hands and weighs 875 pounds, and Hurd expects to begin breezing him for short distances in a few days. Gunnrod, the dam of this colt, is out of the famous Royal Gun, the dam of Gunfire, Tanager, Raglan, Yankee Gun and Hot Shot. Hurd rode Apollo to victory in the Kentucky Derby of 1882. He rode many famous horses in the early 'eighties for W. Cottrell, G. B. Morris and the Maryland turfman, Fox. He, the stars he piloted in those days to victory including such cracks as Crickmore, Compensation, Wedding Day, Duke of Kent, Gold-bug, Oriole, Cresote, Little Phil, Matinee, Mona and the Kentucky Derby winner of 1884, Buchanan. Hurd now weighs at least 150 pounds and recently celebrated his forty-sixth birthday.

Trainer Shelby West has only three horses of the Doerhoefer & West stable now quartered at Churchill Downs. These are Jimmie Gill, Gold of Ophir and Grover. The latter is a two-year-old brother to that speedy filly, Madeline B. Since the Latonia meeting closed, Jimmie Gill has been gelded and he is now taking exercise again. Trainer West let George Ham take Tillie's Nightmare to Canada and the rest of the stable are also in Canada in charge of Pres. West. Gold of Ophir will not be raced much in Kentucky the coming fall. She is partial to the Juarez track and trainer West intends to get her in good form for the Mexico winter meeting.

George J. Long has six yearlings in training at Churchill Downs, only one of which is a colt, he being by Sempronius. He expects to send in from Rashford Manor Farm the coming week a half dozen more youngsters of this age to be track broken before the return of trainer Pete Coyne from Saratoga with the Long racing string a month hence. All the yearlings at the local tracks are looking exceedingly well.

DUFFERIN FAVORITES IN ECLIPSE.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 6.—The students of her had rather a disastrous experience at Dufferin Park this afternoon only one pronounced favorite scoring and that not until the seventh race, when Nila staggered home first by a short head. It was another day of close and exciting finishes, seven of the eight winners being under a drive at the end. Song of Rocks, in the sixth race, was the only exception.

The riding of jockey Dreyer was the feature, he piloting four winners in six attempts. The eighth race served as the feature and went to The Busy-body, the new colt, by a short head after a hard drive. Golden Treasure finished fast and would have won in another stride after being unfortunate in the early running. Chempulo, a keen contender throughout, weakened in the last furlong.

The attendance was much improved over yesterday, about 4,500 being present and, although the weather was threatening, the track remained fast.

DUFFERIN PARK ENTRIES.

The figures under the heading "Rec." in the entries show the best time each horse has made at the distance, since January 1, 1911, no matter where it finished. In cases where record was made on other than a fast or good track, abbreviations show track conditions.

Probabilities: Weather cloudy; track fast. Racing starts at 2:30 p. m. (Chicago time 1:30.)
